Dear Parents

It has been an exciting 6 weeks of very stimulating and fun-filled activities for our children in the early years! The children settled in extremely well and were always eager and ready to participate in activities in all the learning areas ranging from Communication and language, Mathematics, Literacy, physical development, Knowledge and understanding of the world, Personal social and emotional development and Arts and technology.

The activities were well planned to meet the needs of each child as we believe in Lavender Preparatory “No child left behind”.

Our assembly has been enlightening as we explored the creation story with the theme “God made our wonderful world” this was done with the aid of songs, storybooks, flashcards and other resources introducing the children to the beautiful things around us such as the sun, animals, flowers, trees, birds and shrubs

The children have had the opportunity to participate in a variety of activities ranging from working with play dough, having imaginary play in the sandpit building castles, moulding a star fish and crab with sand. These activities were planned to develop their fine and gross motor skills. These skills are incredibly important and will hopefully have a positive effect on their pincer grip.

Numeracy has been exciting this term, the children were introduced to number games using a variety of resources, fixing number puzzles, sorting and matching colours and shapes and making links to their environment.

To develop the childrens' communication and language skills, they have been exposed to lots of reading activities ranging from read aloud, storytelling, picture reading and role play.

Furthermore, cookery was a blast ! We had an exciting time ! The children were introduced to new skills such as peeling and cutting while making fruit and veggie kebab, spreading jam and butter and cutting out patterns with the cookie cutters.

Thanks to our parents who made it happen by contributing the items to make these activities a reality.

Wishing you a lovely summer holiday!
